

If there are issues from enforcement bodies, Trading Standards, Environmental Health or the Advertising Standards Authority, we can offer expert advice to minimise the impact within the business.

Dealing effectively with enforcement challenges

Receiving letters, complaints or notices of prosecution from Enforcement Officers can be frightening and leave you with many questions;

- What should I do?
- How do I respond?
- What should I tell them?
- What should I not tell them?

FoodChain Europe employ ex-enforcement professionals who can deal with any potential complaint or prosecution you may have. Our knowledge and experience will ensure that any response given is timely, appropriate and enables a swift conclusion to the situation.
